

INFORMATION ON THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA.

CRISPI SPORT s.r.l. with registered office in Via Nome di Maria 14 - 31010 Maser (TV), Italy, as data controller (hereinafter, referred to as the “Controller”), provides this information to the Customer (hereinafter, also referred to as the “Data Subject”) in accordance with European and Italian regulations on personal data protection.

Purpose and legal basis of processing

The Controller processes personal data for the following purposes:

- 1) Fulfilling contractual and regulatory obligations related to the business relationship, as well as pursuing the legitimate interest in effectively managing the relationship itself, verifying the Customer’s solvency, and managing any legal disputes. The legal basis for this processing is the necessity to pursue the aforementioned purposes;
- 2) Utilising the Customer’s email address to send commercial communications containing information about the Controller’s products or services, as well as promotions or invitations to events in which the Controller will participate. This purpose, which is considered lawful under the regulations governing this specific aspect, may be pursued even without the explicit consent of the Data Subject. However, the Data Subject has the right to prevent such communications from the moment the data is provided or subsequently.

Data retention period

The Data Controller intends to process the data in accordance with the following time criteria:

- ✓ For the purposes set out in point 1), for the entire duration of the business relationship and subsequently for the fulfilment of all obligations connected with or arising from the establishment of the relationship. This includes the period mandated by law and in accordance with the statute of limitations for rights arising from the business relationship. Additionally, data may be stored for a further period necessary to resolve any disputes that may arise, regardless of the outcome;
- ✓ For the purpose mentioned to in point 2), the data will be processed until an unsubscribe request is received or the Controller’s commercial communication activity is terminated.

Nature of data provision and consequences of refusal

The provision of data for the purposes set out in point 1) is necessary. Therefore, any refusal to provide such data, either in whole or in part, may render it impossible for the Data Controller to pursue the aforementioned purposes. The provision of data for additional purposes is optional. In the absence of such data, the Data Controller will be unable to carry out the corresponding activities, but will still be entitled to pursue the purposes set out in point 1).

Recipient categories

The Data Controller will not disseminate the data, but intends to communicate them to authorised internal personnel based on their respective duties. Additionally, the data may be communicated to companies hosting the marketing platform, commercial agents, credit institutions, credit insurance companies, credit recovery companies, commercial information providers, consultants, professionals, or service companies, as well as to public and private bodies, including as a result of inspections and audits.

If these recipients process data on behalf of the Controller, they will be designated as data processors through a contract or other legally binding agreement.

Data transfer to a third country and/or international organisation

As a general practice, personal data will not be transferred to non-European third countries or international organisations. However, the Data Controller may need to carry out such transfers in relation to business partners located outside the European Economic Area or due to the utilisation of IT services (such as cloud or backup services, etc.). In all such cases, transfers will be conducted in compliance with the specific requirements set out in the regulations on the protection of personal data.

Rights of Data Subjects

The Data Subject has the right to ask the Data Controller to access their personal data and to rectify them if they are inaccurate, to cancel or limit their processing if the conditions are met, to oppose their processing for legitimate interests pursued by the Data Controller, as well as to obtain the portability of the data personally provided only if they are subject to automated processing based on consent or contract. The data subject also has the right to prevent the sending of newsletters by writing to the address indicated below and may request the cessation of the newsletter service at any time, without affecting the lawfulness of the processing carried out prior to the request.

To exercise their rights, the Data Subject may use the form available at the link <https://www.garanteprivacy.it/web/guest/home/docweb/-/docweb-display/docweb/1089924> and forward it to the following address: privacy@crispi.it. The Data Subject also has the right to lodge a complaint with the relevant supervisory authority, the Garante per la protezione dei dati personali (Italian Data Protection Authority) (www.garanteprivacy.it).